The Best 1st of April Jokes by Famous Companies

In 1998, Burger King made a hilarious ad for a new Whopper designed just for left-handed people! The ad claimed that all the ingredients were rotated 180 degrees so left-handed customers could hold and eat their burgers much more easily.

Duolingo's Push Notifications in Real Life

Duolingo, famous for its nonstop notifications, announced a funny new service called "Duolingo Push." They joked that they would send a real-life giant green owl mascot to follow users everywhere and remind them to do their language lessons!

IKEA's Dog High Chair (2011)

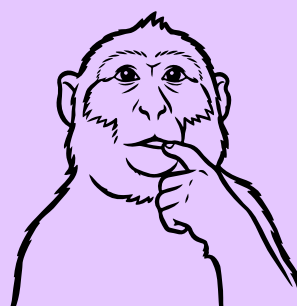

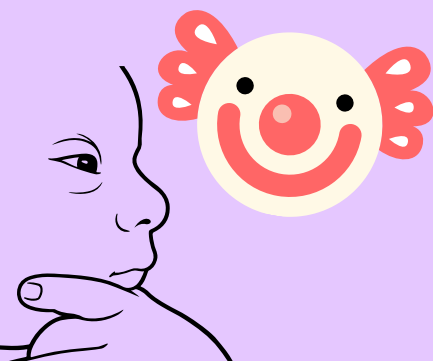

IKEA surprised everyone by announcing a new product called "HUNDSTOL"—a high chair made just for dogs so they could sit with the family at the dinner table! IKEA even shared funny instructions and fake customer reviews to make it look totally real. In the end, many pet lovers were actually sad to find out it was just a joke!

Samsung Galaxy Blade Edge

Electronics giant Samsung caught the attention of tech and food lovers with the world's first "smart knife!" The Galaxy Blade Edge was a chef's knife with smartphone features, and Samsung called it the "ultimate cooking companion."

SPRING FESTIVAL

ADVENTURE TIME

Marceline is one of the coolest and most interesting characters in Adventure Time! She is a 1,000-year-old vampire queen who loves rock music and plays a sweet bass guitar. She can look a bit scary on the outside, but she actually has a very kind heart. Through her stories, she teaches us the true meaning of friendship, honesty, and sharing our feelings.

Did you know? Marceline and Simon have a very special, father-and-daughter-like bond from the past that makes their story unforgettable!

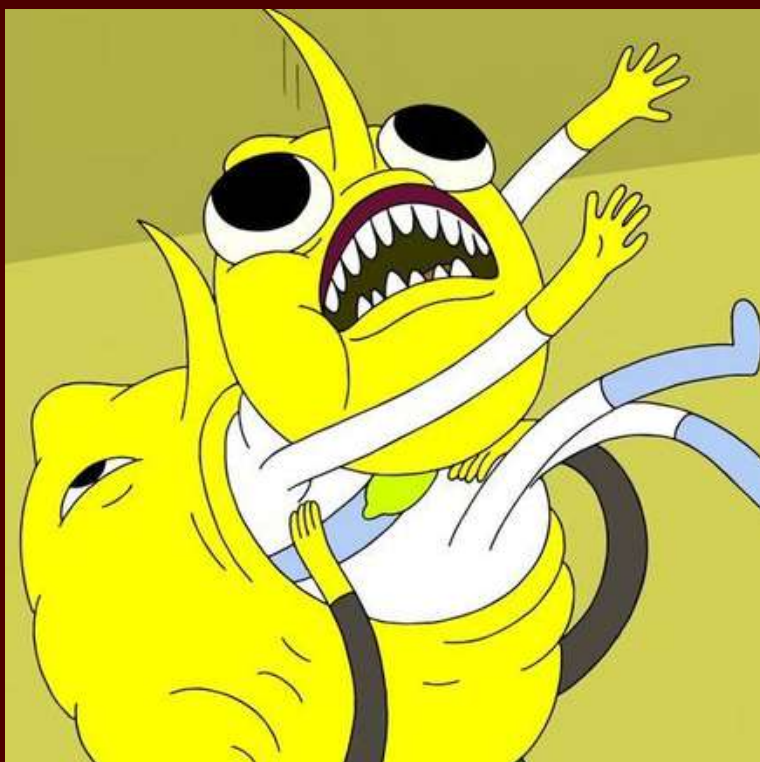

Before he became the crazy Ice King, Simon was a kind and super smart scientist who loved history. Sadly, a magical crown made him lose his memory and turned him into the Ice King. But underneath all that ice, Simon is still a gentle and caring person. His emotional story shows us how powerful love and memories can be.

Princess Bubblegum is the super-smart ruler of the Candy Kingdom! She absolutely loves science, inventions, and doing wild experiments in her lab. She always uses logic to protect her kingdom, and even though she can be a bit strict sometimes, she cares deeply about her candy people and friends. She shows us that a great leader needs both a big brain and a big heart!

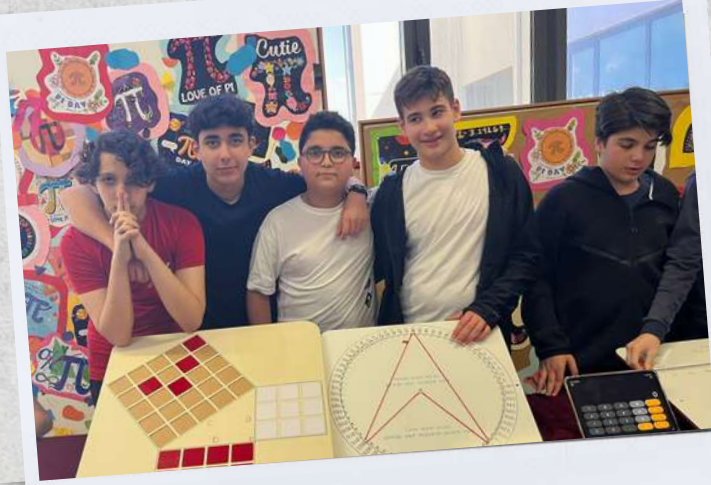

Did you know? Lemongrab was actually Princess Bubblegum's very first laboratory creation, which is why their connection is so unique and full of drama!

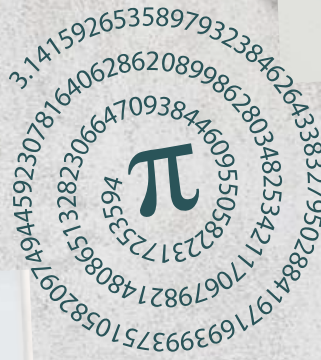

Earl of Lemongrab is probably the strangest and loudest character in the show! Created by Princess Bubblegum, he rules the Lemon Kingdom and is famous for shouting "UNACCEPTABLE!" whenever he gets upset. He finds it really hard to understand social rules or other people's feelings, which makes him act super weird. His funny yet sad story teaches us how important communication and understanding each other can be!

FLL Junior

On Saturday, April 11, our school hosted the amazing Jr. FLL Explorer Tournament! 17 fantastic teams from Adana and Hatay joined the fun, and we were there with two of our own awesome teams. One of our teams did a spectacular job with coding and solved tough puzzles to win the "Master Programmer" award!

Our other team brought creative ideas together with a brilliant project design, totally wowing the jury and taking home the "Innovative Explorers" award! We are so proud of our friends!

WACKY WEDNESDAY

WACKY WEDNESDAY

Wild Animals

Meet the spotted hyena! These amazing animals live in Africa and they are actually super smart. They live in big families called clans, and guess what? The moms and females are always the leaders! Many people think hyenas only eat leftovers, but that's not true. They are fantastic hunters and work together as a team to catch their food.

Plus, they have incredibly strong jaws that can easily crush bones! By keeping nature clean and balanced, hyenas are like the cool superheroes of the animal world.

Wild Animals

Meet the Gaboon viper, a huge and fascinating snake that lives in the forests of Africa! This snake is the ultimate master of camouflage. Because its skin looks exactly like dry leaves, it can easily hide on the forest floor and wait for its lunch—like small birds or mice—to walk by! Did you know that it has the longest fangs of any snake in the world? Even though it has powerful venom, this big snake is actually very slow and prefers to stay away from humans. In the wild, it plays a great role by keeping nature healthy and balanced.

STAR WARS DAY

Did you know that May 4th is Star Wars Day? In the movies, Jedi masters say, "May the Force be with you." Because "Force" sounds like "Fourth" (May 4th), fans turned this day into a giant celebration!

WHY TO WATCH STAR WARS?

Created by George Lucas in 1977, Star Wars is a legendary galaxy adventure. The main story, the Skywalker Saga, takes us on an epic ride with heroic Jedi knights and brave rebels fighting against the dark empire. It's an adventure that never gets old!

Movie Recommendation

Long before Harry Potter went to Hogwarts—back when the dark wizard Gellert Grindelwald was causing trouble—a wizard named Newt Scamander arrived in New York.

The year was 1926, and Newt had just traveled the whole world to find and save fantastic magical creatures! He only planned to stay for a short time. But guess what? A No-Maj (the American word for Muggle) named Jacob accidentally swapped suitcases with him! Soon, some of Newt's magical beasts escaped into the city. Now, both the wizarding and the human worlds are in huge trouble!

Who's Going to Unravel the Mystery of the Legendary Malamander?

Nobody wants to visit that strange seaside town in the winter. Especially when night falls, and a thick fog covers the spooky Monstermouth Rocks and the old Leviathan ship... Some people even swear they've seen the scary footprints of the legendary Malamander monster in the mist!

Herbert Lemon is the Lost and Found manager at the Grand Nautilus Hotel, and he knows exactly how hard it is to find the owners of lost things.

But this time, the "lost item" is a young girl's family! Nobody knows what happened to Violet Parma's parents twelve years ago. When Violet asks Herbert for help, they find a secret clue that leads them straight to the Malamander. This creepy town has always been full of secrets, but now, as the fog rolls in, things are getting truly scary!
